PRESIDENT'S FOREWORD

First of all, I am delighted to express my sincere gratitude to our volunteers and staff for delivering their services to meet the humanitarian needs and building resilient communities through following our Strategic Plan (2016 – 2020).

Our Myanmar Red Cross Society continued community-based approach with the mission of “Develop safe and resilient communities through integrated community-based initiatives, promoting humanitarian values by the network of volunteers and members and to play an auxiliary role to the State in humanitarian field through strong legal base”.

Throughout this year 2017, all the MRCS activities built safe and resilient communities in respect to three goals mentioned in MRCS SP 2016-2020.

MRCS is not only focusing on community resilience but also strengthening red cross branches structured in 330 townships across the country to ensure sustainability of the activities in terms of capacity building along the process.

MRCS conducted its organization capacity assessment in December 2016. Based on its results, further planning process will be linked to the strategic plan.

One of the important critical actions is to improve the number, involvement and capacities of volunteers as they are the backbone of our national society's stand. During the year 2017, altogether 3054 volunteers are actively involved in providing humanitarian aids and 16251 volunteers are trained for strengthening the capacities.

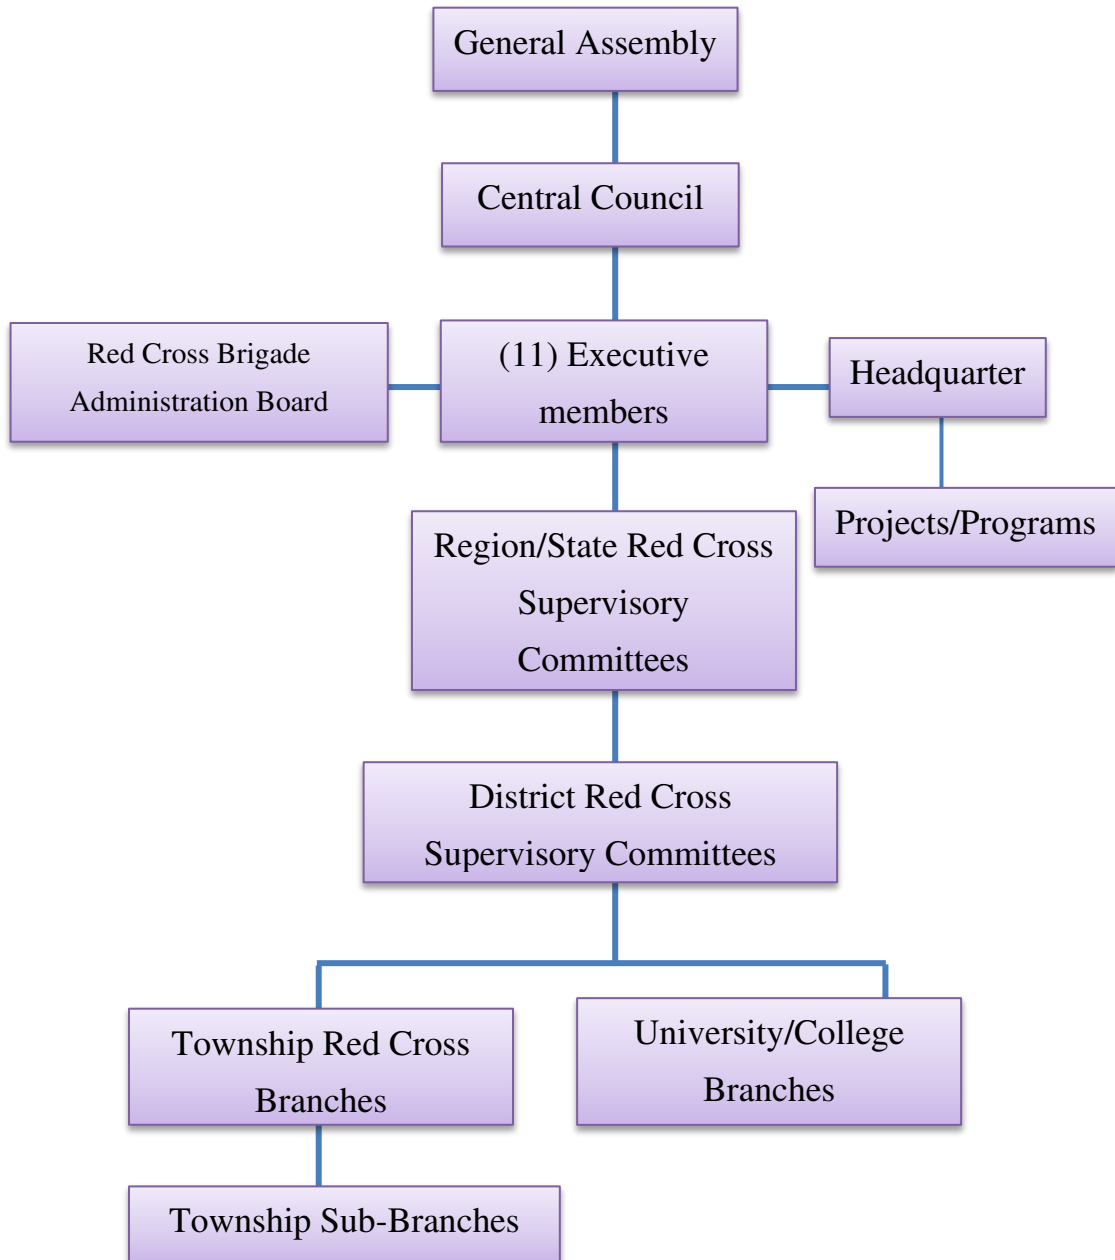

This report captured how much MRCS contributed to the vulnerable communities in collaboration with movement, non-movement partners, related ministries and many other organizations. We, MRCS's humanitarian assistance reached more than 2 million people during the year 2017.

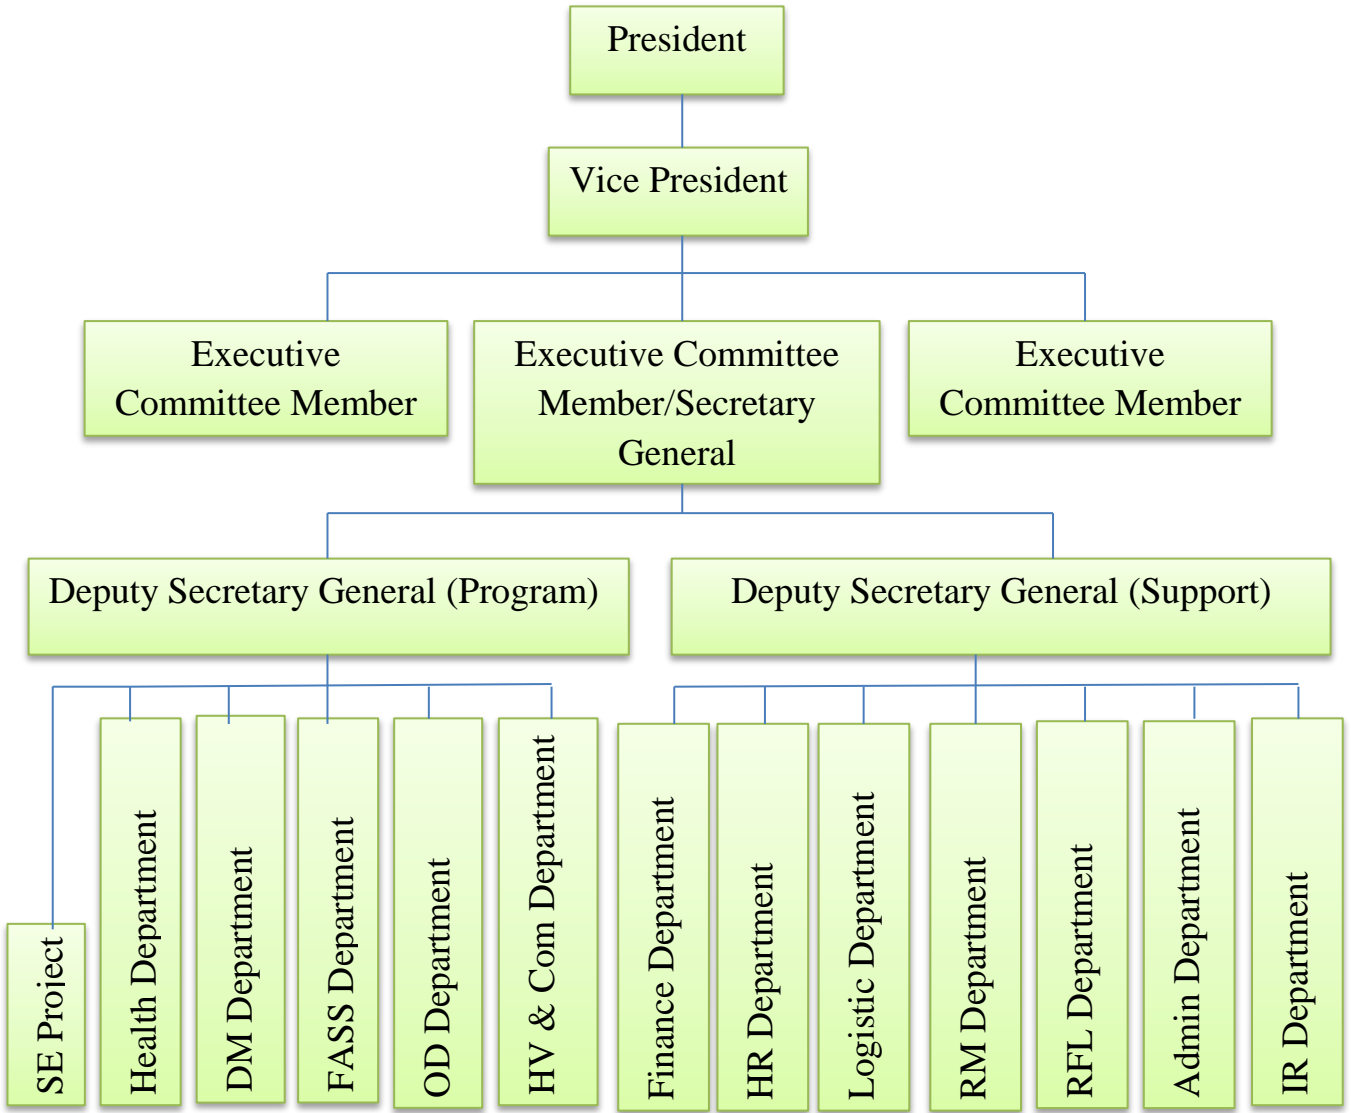

As an auxiliary to the government in humanitarian field, we MRCS will continue our humanitarian works in collaboration with other partner national societies, focal and related ministries now and then.

Professor Dr Mya Thu
President
Myanmar Red Cross Society
