Duties and Responsibilities

- Provide individual and group psychosocial support and basic counselling to clients accessing the mobile clinic who require psychosocial support.
- Conduct basic psychosocial screening and assessment to identify clients' emotional, psychological, and social support needs.
- Provide active listening, emotional support, supportive counselling, Psychological First Aid (PFA), psychoeducation, and appropriate coping strategies.

- Support clients experiencing stress, anxiety, grief, loss, displacement, family or social difficulties, and other psychosocial concerns.
- Identify clients who require advanced or specialized care and arrange timely referrals to appropriate mental health professionals, specialized MHPSS service providers, health facilities, or other relevant services.
- Coordinate with the mobile clinic health team, Field Facilitators, and other relevant staff to ensure appropriate and integrated client support while maintaining confidentiality.
- Maintain accurate, timely, and confidential records of counselling sessions, referrals, and follow-up activities using approved tools and procedures.
- Ensure the safe and confidential storage of client information and maintain professional boundaries at all times.
- Prepare regular PSS activity and referral reports and provide relevant program information without compromising client confidentiality.
- Perform other relevant duties assigned by the supervisor in support of project objectives.

Required Qualifications and Experience

- Any Bachelor's degree or degree in Psychology, Social Work, Counselling or a related field (or equivalent experience) is preferred.
- Relevant training in counselling, PSS, MHPSS, Psychological First Aid (PFA), or case management is an advantage.
- Minimum 1–2 years of relevant work experience in counselling, psychosocial support, MHPSS, social work, community health, or humanitarian programs.
- Experience working in mobile clinics, community-based programs, or conflict-affected settings is an advantage.
- Experience working with vulnerable groups, including women, adolescents, persons with disabilities, displaced persons, and other at-risk populations, is desirable.
- Strong communication, active listening, interpersonal, documentation, and teamwork skills.
- Ability to work independently and effectively in field-based and mobile clinic environments.
- Willingness and ability to work in field-based and resource-constrained environments.
